"All dealers will be required to purchase a dealer Trade Show License. Dealers include: Those who are displaying merchandise in conjunction with materials used to advertise or solicit sales, such as business cards, order forms and catalogs, even if orders are not taken nor goods sold at the show. Dealers who sell merchandise, of any kind, including magazine subscriptions, tools, or provide services such as appraisal, will also need a license. Sales need not be exclusively of gems or jewelry to necessitate the purchase of a license.

The ONLY situation in which a dealer who sells or solicits sales of merchandise will not be required to purchase a license is if the business enterprise has a current tax-exempt status under Section 501 (c) of the Internal Revenue Code. If this applies to your company, please return this form and include a copy of your 501 (c) form."
